

ARMY SONGS

REVIVE US AGAIN

Tune—My God I am Thine, 194;
Song-Book, 248.

My God, I am Thine;
What a comfort divine!
What a blessing to know that My Jesus is mine!

Chorus:
Hallelujah! send the glory!
Hallelujah! Amen.
Hallelujah! send the glory!
Revive us again!

In the heavenly Lamb
Thine happy I am
And my heart it doth dance
At the sound of His name.

My Jesus to know,
And feel His Blood flow,
Tis life everlasting,
Tis heaven below.

A GREAT SALVATION

Tune—Saints of God, 193; S.B., 255.
I have found a great Salvation,

For my Saviour, Saviour, has opened
From me sin's Uve liberation,
Glory to God!

I was sunk in misery,
Bound by Satan's cruel fetters,
But the Saviour set me free,
Glory to God!

Now my heart is full of singing,
I am kept each day from sinking,
Oh, this joy I can't express,
For it never knows an ending;
I've a life of happiness!

Sister, you can have this blessing,
Come to Christ, your sins confessing,
Then your life will happy be,
And in Heaven you'll get a mansion,
There to live eternally.

POUR THY SPIRIT

Precious Savior, we are coming,
At Thy feet just now we fall,
Waiting to receive Thy blessing,
Come, and now baptize us all.

Chorus:
Pour Thy Spirit, pour Thy Spirit.

Mighty Lord, our hearts are open
To Thy penetrating gaze;
Now, Oh, let the fire descending Fill our hearts with power and praise!

Time and talents I surrender,
Finally all I give to Thee;
Each my bold of Thy great promise
Brings the fire just now on me.

THE HEAVENLY CITY

This is the last song composed by "Dad" Pettit, of Medicine Hat, before he passed away to the Glory Land!

(Tune—Tell it again.)
There was a true Soldier, whose name was St. John,
Carried away to a mountain alone,
Where one of God's angels did unto him come
And showed him a sight of the saints' future home.

Chorus:
Isn't it grand! Isn't it grand!
To know you're an heir of the Heavenly Land?
Where the streets are all paved with the finest of gold;
Its joys and its pleasures can never be told.

He showed him a City it was grand to behold;
The streets were all lined with the finest of gold;
The walls are of jasper, they are so white and so bright;
A grand City wherever

That City is four square, its length and its breadth, its height and its depth are exactly the same, and its walls are Twelve thousand furlongs it measures complete,
Plenty of room in the saints' future home.

Twelve gates has that City, three gates on each side,
Our forefathers' name on each gate,
The gates are all noble,
Each gate is one pearl, most noble and grand,
Where happy saints enter that Heavenly Land.

No need of the sun, nor yet of the moon,
For the City is lit by the King on His Throne.

Who died on the Cross and arose
from the tomb,
And now sits as Judge in the saints'
future home.

To gain that fair City no price is to pay,
For Jesus, our Saviour, has opened the way.

He gives you a welcome and bids
you to come,
And get a free pass to the sainta'
future home.

Nine Relatives at Front.

Staff-Captain Tudge of Winnipeg, recently received some interesting news from a sister in England that his brother, who went to France with the first British Expeditionary Force, and who was wounded and entered hospital there for some time, has now been invalided home to England. It is unlikely that he will be able to return to the front owing to his condition.

The letter from England also informs the Staff-Captain that he has now relatives already serving in the British army in connection with the present war. The Staff-Captain, previous to becoming Officer in the Salvation Army, was attached to the British navy and served in the North Atlantic squadron.

Sold 500 Christmas "Cry."

Brother E. Darby, of Springfield
Mines, has done quite well at selling Christians' "War Crys." Though he had never tried to sell "The War Cry" before, he succeeded in disposing of two hundred and fifty copies.

Well done, comrade. Moral—You never know what you can do till you try.

SIX SURRENDER

Thirty-Two Souls at Lindsay in a Few Weeks.

We had a splendid meetings for the week-end, January 12th, and on Sunday night six souls sought oardon, in answer to united prayer. The last week or so have seen many an answers to prayer, and no less than thirteen souls have knelt at the Mercy Seat. Recently we are standing firm. Our recent meetings have been some thirty-six Bandmen and Songsters partook of tea, after which a short programme was given, everyone taking some part.

ARMY CRY

FAIR OF THE SALVATION ARMY IN CANADA AND NEWFOUNDLAND

Territorial Headquarters: James and Albert Sts., Toronto.

TORONTO, FEBRUARY 6, 1915. W. J. Richards, Commissioner. Price Five Cents.

THE NEW HALL AT ST. MARY'S RECENTLY OPENED.

THE OFFICERS IN CHARGE ARE CAPTAIN GEROW AND LIEUTENANT FROUD. (See Page Three.)

After twenty-six years of faithful service, Bandmaster G. Dundley has farewelled from the Chatham (Ont.) Band, going to Windsor (Ont.). He was presented with a loving gift by the Band Secretary on behalf of the Bandsmen, at the night meeting, Jan. 17th. The Bandmaster briefly thanked the Bandsmen for their kindness, telling how that a long time ago, when he went away, he was presented with a Bible containing the names of some Bandsmen. The Band leaves a full Band of about forty players. Bandmaster George Dundley was well known in the district, being assistant superintendent in a carriage factory. His place is being filled by Deputy Bandmaster S. Dix. The Singers held a musical meeting on Saturday evening, Jan. 16th, and under the baton of Songster Leader, G. C. Pont, delighted the audience.—G. C.

The Guelph (Ont.) Band visited the Prison Farm on Dec. 30th, 1914, and gave a musical festival. A large number of prisoners listened to the music with interest, and gave the Band boys hearty applause at the conclusion of each number.—Guelph Mercury.

The Etobicoke Band was present, and did very good service at the New Year's dinner served at this Corps. About two hundred persons were present, and after dinner a musical festival was given.

Botwood was the Mecca of the Grand Falls (Nfld.) Bandsmen, on Wednesday, Jan. 6th (their destination day). They arrived at their destination safely, and after the usual refreshments, gave a good programme of Band and vocal music and recitations.—J. B.

On Thursday, Jan. 14th, the Vancouver IV. Band gave a very interesting programme of music and song. Brigadier Green was in the chair, and Miss Green gave a pianoforte solo. An interesting item was the presentation of new Colours to the Band, and the commissioning of Brother Fitch as Band Sergeant. Staff-Captain Smith and Adjutant and Mrs. Gosling were present. At the close of the meeting coffee and cake were served.—L.

Prayer Topics.

1. Pray that a great baptism of the Holy Spirit may be given to our Empire; that God's will may be sought by all the rulers and leaders, as well as by all the people.

2. Pray that the Commissioner and all Army Leaders may be given special grace and wisdom at this crisis time in the history of the world.

3. Pray that the spiritual and humanitarian work of the Army may not be forgotten, for we are not the only ones in spite of all the other important giving for patriotic and other purposes. The Army's exchequer may be kept replenished.

4. Pray for suffering ones and those bereaved because of the war.

Bible Study.

BAND NOTES

Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. Chandler were at Bowmanville on Sunday, Jan. 17th, and in the afternoon conducted the commissioning of the recently organized Bowmanville Band. The Band, which now numbers ten instrumentalists, works hard in the interests of the Corps, and the townspeople appreciate the music.—G. W. L.

Under the baton of Songster Leader Biggs, the Medicine Hat Songster Brigade is making good progress, and is a great help to the Corps. The Band, also, under Bandmaster Atkinson, is making fine progress, and a new monstre bass has just been added, and is played by Bandman R. B. T. The Band worked very hard to make Band Sunday, Jan. 13th, a success.—W. B.

For the first time in public, the Regina Band, on Sunday, Jan. 13th, rendered "Soldiers of Christ," and raised much favourable comment.

The commencement of the North Battalion (Sask.) Band was due to the kindness of the City Council in granting the Corps the use of the City Band instruments. We made good use of the loan, and the Captain immediately started a Band.

During the Christmas and New Year season, one or five of the more advanced learners, with the Captain, went on semi-musical excursions of six or seven days. On Sunday afternoon, and evening (Jan. 10th) the Band also played outdoors and indoors, doing fine service, and the Bandsmen sang at the taking up of the offering.—J. E. T.

The Annual 7th. Meeting of the Owen Sound Band was held on Friday, Jan. 11th, and about one hundred were present. After a short service, a splendid recitation, and Brother J. H. Green's nice concert entitled "All We Know," the rest of the programme was filled in with quartettes and a duet. Sergeant-Major Rawlings took the chair, and everyone voted the meeting a great success.—J. R.

Some time ago the Montreal IV. Band bought an acetylene lamp from in sickness, and strength when you are in adversity.—Roberts, F. M.

HERO'S FIRST GREATNESS.

(By Mrs. Bimboe Johnston.)

One of the remarkable things noted in the passing away of that noble military leader, Lord Roberts, is the space given in the public press to the religious part of his character and life. While, of course, much has been written of his military genius and exploits and conquests, of his service to sovereign and country. Much space was devoted to recording his goodness.

The Public Schools of Ontario are filling up a copy of his message to the troops. We pass it on for the benefit of our Praying League.

"FROM TORONTO"

Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. Chandler at Bowmanville, Ont.

Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. Chandler were with us on Saturday and Sunday (Jan. 16th-17th), and we had a glorious time. An enrollment of Soldiers and a commissioning of Bandsmen and Local Officers took place on the Saturday evening—four new comrades being sworn under the Flag. Brother Gincer was commissioned. Corps Sergeant-Major and Brother Pointed Colours Sergeant, and the Lieut.-Colonel, whose son member, was also commissioned. The Colonel was at his best on Sunday, and the people enjoyed his talks very much. The afternoon and night meetings were the largest we have had for years, and the Band was much in evidence. So hard did the Bandsmen work that one gentleman said if the Band had been brought from Toronto, Come again, Colonel—G. W. L.

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, MAN.

The Annual Christmas Entertainment and Tree were a great success. The Corps and Band were a great success. Brother Chas. Gill took the chair, and was frequently interrupted by telephone messages from Santa, which held the breathless attention of the children. Items of a very interesting nature were a Japanese entertainment with lanterns, and a "Whistling Soldier" by Mr. Beckett and a band of red-jacketed boys. A dialogue entitled "The Lost Boy" was well received. Santa arrived in style down the chimney, and the children each received a present.

WINNIPEG III, MAN.

Things are on the up-grade here, and souls are getting saved. Backsliders are returning and Soldiers sanctified. Although attendances have not been as large as we should like, yet we have not let many unconverted leave the meetings in such a condition.

Captain Cox, of Divisional Headquarters, was with us for the weekend, Jan. 16th-17th, and we had inspiring meetings. We enjoyed his inspiring talks very much, and had one surrender in the Holiness meeting, and one at night. Hallelujah! forward we go—Cor.

METLAKAHTLA, B.C.

We set up a Christmas tree here for the children, and although the interior of the church is not quite ready, yet we are using it. The two comrades who are not in the Corps are Young People's Sergeant-Major Mrs. Prentiss and Platform Sergeant Mrs. Clifton. The village is a great place to say, divided into two halves. Entertainment is great, and it is to its credit to say that it is always glad to see the soldiers. The Army. In all, there were about one hundred present, amongst whom were the Indian Agent and his daughter, and each one received a present—Sergeant-Major M. Auldland.

"BREWER" BROWN

Has Good Times at Kemptville and Montreal.

Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. Chandler recently conducted a campaign at Kemptville and the district round, visiting several places where The Army is not at work. The people received everybody. At Kemptville we received ministers and prominent citizens who were on the platform, and spoke well of The Army. They were delighted with the Envoy's lecture. The Envoy could stay longer. One soul sought Salvation.

Adjutant Magee and Captain McElroy conducted the week-end meetings, Jan. 16th-17th, and we had good times. The Soldiers turned out in fine style for both outdoor and indoor meetings. A young fellow, under the influence of liquor, recently surrendered in one of our meetings, and is standing firm. He now testifies to what God has done for him, telling how that, some years ago, he was an Officer, but slipped and fell—S. M.

Major Walton Visits Cornwall, Ont.

Major Walton paid us a visit for the weekend of Jan. 10th. A most enjoyable time was spent, and the Bandmen are re-commisioned. Although attendances have not been as large as we should like, yet we have not let many unconverted leave the meetings in such a condition.

Captain Cox, of Divisional Headquarters, was with us for the weekend, Jan. 16th-17th, and we had inspiring meetings. We enjoyed his inspiring talks very much, and had one surrender in the Holiness meeting, and one at night. Hallelujah! forward we go—Cor.

GUELPH, ONT.

Captain Clayton conducted the meetings on Dec. 26th and 27th, and we had inspiring times. The Band, as usual, turned out in force and did good service. The usual Sunday Night service was held on New Year's Eve, and, although a seemingly intercessional meeting, all present received much blessing. We are glad to report much progress during last year—J. R.

WINNIPEG LEAGUE OF MERCY.

The members of the League of Mercy here give their annual Christmas Tree to the inmates of the Beehive Wing at Grace Hospital on Dec. 30th, and to the girls at the Children's Hospital on Jan. 7th. At each institution the treat was presented by a programme, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all—A. C. T.

BACKSLIDERS RETURN...

Interesting Events Take Place at Moose Jaw, Sask.

During the last week (Jan. 10th-12th), we had two surrenders—one for Salvation and one for consecration. On the Friday evening, the larger Hall of our Citadel was well lit for an address on "Prophecy and the Great War," as revealed by the Scripture." This was given by the Rev. W. E. Christian, of Oshawa, Ont. One soul surrendered.

On Saturday we had good meetings, and in the afternoon the infant son of Bandsman and Sister Albert Fincham, Walter Grimmer Fincham, was dedicated. The Envoy could stay longer. One soul sought Salvation.

The Envoy has had a good start at Moose Jaw. The Friday night meeting continued till near midnight, with twelve souls for consecration or Salvation.

Raising Water by Gas Explosion

A USEFUL INVENTION.

PROBABLY the most interesting mechanical invention placed in actual operation on a large scale of recent years is the remarkable explosion-pump invented by an Englishman. He tested his invention in a mine, but failed to interest the managers by the force of gas explosions and wondered why the explosions could not be utilized direct. He saw no reason why the explosions had first to be confined in an internal combustion engine to provide power for the operation of a scavenging air, through open exhaust valves. As the water continues to rise in the combustion chamber these valves are sealed by it, and the dilated products of combustion still remaining are compressed until the pressure of the water is sufficient to cause the water to surge back along the play pipes again.

When this occurs the pressure in the combustion chamber again falls below atmospheric pressure, a charge of air and gas is drawn in, and water, on its next return, swinging pump. He devised an apparatus that not only does away with the conventional internal combustion engine, with its piston, fly-wheel, and crank, but also does anything that, through familiar usage, would be recognized as a pump.

His invention consists mainly of a combustion chamber and a play pipe. Water from an intake rises to a certain height in the combustion chamber, and the gas explosion is directed against it, and the water is driven through the play pipe into a conical tower or stand pipe. The pipe connecting the combustion chamber with the tower is called a play pipe rather than just a delivery pipe, because, after each explosion, the water plays or swings back and forth in it, in somewhat the same manner as a wave moving from the ocean and striking a breakwater. The force of a succeeding wave, but this more clearly explained by a detailed description of the method of operation.

All fluid gas, in the proper mixture, are forced by a small compressor into the space above the water level in the combustion chamber, and then this charge is fired by an electric spark. The force of the explosion drives the water through the play pipe into the conical tower, which the delivery pipe carries part of it to the reservoir or other point of delivery. The water thus driven out of combustion chamber, and along the play pipe into the tower, leaves a partial vacuum in the chamber, and more water enters through what are called scavenging valves, and the water left in the conical tower, is caused to rest, starts to fall. As much of this water as can escape passes through the delivery pipe into the reservoir, and the remainder, driven by the water in the play pipe, back into the combustion chamber, the pressure so created expelling the products of combustion, now well-diluted by the through the play pipe, compresses the charge. This is exploded at the proper moment by the electric spark. In other words the water in the play pipe goes back' and forth for every explosion. The process is automatically repeated, the explosion occurring about nine times a minute.

Five of the pumps are now in successful operation, exploding water from the River Lea into the great new reservoir which supplies London. Four of the pumps discharge forty thousand gallons a minute, and the fifth has a capacity of twenty thousand gallons a minute. So economical is the operation that nothing before invented in pumps, driving steam, electricity, or gasoline, can compare with it. The flow into the reservoir from the delivery pipe discharging from the conical tower of each unit is continuous and practically uniform.

PROMOTED TO GLORY

Sister Mrs. Cuscoff, of Verdun (Montreal).

Another faithful soldier has been taken from us in the Higher Service, namely, Sister Mrs. Cuscoff, wife of our Corps Sergeant-Major, Sister Cuscoff was married on the eve of her arrival in this country, and her decease came unexpectedly for she was ill only for a few days.

Our late comrade was prepared, and had been converted for twelve years, and during that time had been enrolled Soldier of this Corps. She was loved by all who knew her, because of her beautiful spirit and goodness. The end came peacefully, for she passed away in her sleep.

A very impressive funeral was held, at which Major Walton, assistant Major, intelligent Rawling, P.E.I., the city Officers, and the Vicar and Montreal L.I. Bands were present. A most impressive march took place. Hundreds of people lined the streets, whilst one hundred and thirty comrades formed the march.

The memorial service was conducted by our Commanding Officers, Captain Thomas, and Lieutenant Jones, whilst Treasurer Weston and Young People's Sergeant-Major, Kitson spoke on the Godly life of our departed sister. Secretary Coley soloed, and we closed with four surrenders, and the comrades re-consecrating themselves, one and all, to God's service. We extend our hearty sympathy to the Sergeant-Major at this time of sorrow. J. M.

Mrs. Hardy Oliver, Alberta, P.E.I.

Our comrade was promoted to Glory on Jan. 1st, leaving a husband and eight children: the eldest being seventeen years of age, and the youngest two weeks.

Mrs. Oliver was converted sixteen years ago, and although living a distance from any Army Corps, she joined the local church. Her two sons, became Soldiers, and are in their names on the Summerville Roll. During all this time, cottage meetings

PROHIBITION IN ICELAND.

AT the beginning of the present year total prohibition came into force in the Danish Colony of Iceland. But the necessary preparations have been made for the event. Public opinion was growing steadily for the complete suppression of the ancient liquor traffic; the fishing boats of the world, the fishing fleet of Iceland, the community has at last overcome the selfish avarice of those who make money out of what debauches and degrades their fellows.

QUEER MARRIAGE CUSTOMS.

AT the marriage customs of the people of Basrah (India) is given by Staff-Captain Jivan Singh. He says: "All guests that attend the native wedding have to pay one rupee for their food. If the wedding ceremony is only one hour long, the guests are not obliged to eat, and the party breaks up; but sometimes the arrangements take so long that two or three meals are needed, and this runs up the cost when occasionally upwards of two hundred people are to be provided for.

As early as 1:30 a.m. a party begins. 'Come quickly and conduct the wedding of my daughter: the party arrived at 10 p.m. last night, and I have fed them once, and if you will come and conduct the marriage at once I can send them away without delay. By that means he would hope to save about five rupees."

BOY HERO REWARDED.

A KINGSTON boy, George Anson, aged twelve, has been presented with a silver watch and chain in recognition of his bravery in rescuing a drowning lad, while skating on Navy Bay, broken through the ice, and would have been drowned only for the lad, who rushed to her assistance from the college shore, and held her up for twenty minutes with the aid of his hockey stick, until members of the 14th Regiment on guard at the military stores building reached the scene.

NOT EVEN THE UNDERTAKER.

A TEMPERANCE lecturer was in the habit of taking out his gold watch during the course of his lecture and offering to give it to anyone who benefited by the same. No one took up the offer, however, till one day a gentleman rose and said quietly: "The undertaker."

The lecturer was about to hand over his watch, when an old man arose and said: "Hold on! Before you give that watch, allow me to say that I have been the undertaker to the community for the past five years, and have buried a great many of that kind of people; but whenever I am called upon to lay away an old soul or any member of his family, I always know it's a charity job; that I shall never get the money. I should much better off to-day if I had never had to bury one such cast."

can only show the presence of a foreign body, but gives no idea of the depth at which it lies. Surgeons often have to search everywhere, and the unfortunate occupants are said to write, shout, and scream.

By use of a telephone, however, the surgeon can tell when his instruments touch metal, owing to a distinct metallic grating sound being produced.

There is a popular fallacy that it is necessary to remove not only bullets, but every scrap of metal from the wound. But experience has shown that the human body does not mind a little metal, and the removal of bullets is often too dangerous to attempt.

A SINISTER sight in Germany is the sight of all the cars of a train which are painted red, and is used for the transportation of soldiers driven mad by war's horrors. The carriages are described as padded everywhere, and the unfortunate occupants are said to write, shout, and scream.

The unerring conditions of modern warfare wherein the troops are in the trenches, knee-deep in water, always hungry and thirsty, while a continuous hail of shells fired by an invisible enemy deals death all around, mingles the minds of many.

OUR SHORT STORY

The Resurrection of Paul Kull

To see Paul Kull, Soldier of The Salvation Army, as I have done, kneeling at the Mercy Seat with face uplifted, his one arm round the shoulder of a weeping penitent, the other raised and received. However pale the resuscitated prodigal, renders it almost incredible that he can possibly be one and the same person as Paul Kull, highwayman and convict is now a humble, self-denying Salvation soldier.

At first sight, Kull strikes one as conforming, about as little to the regulation criminal type as any one could conceive. He is neither tall nor fat, the middle height, one sees nothing in a first glance at his pale, rather delicate face, to match the career of desperate crime which stands to his record. Looking closer, however, one notes the firm, straight line of the thin, compressed lips, and the forward thrust of the square, determined chin. Sparsely straight is stored in that slight, closely-shut mouth, the muscles of which are tough as seasoned catgut—as many an officer of the law has proved to his pain! Piercèd fires were wont to slumber in those deeply-set eyes—signals of passions that, once fairly

Once a member of a gang of thirty desperate Bandits, who terrorized the countryside, and were only captured by a united assault by military and police, this one-time highwayman and convict is now a humble, self-denying Salvation soldier.

"Why don't you hit the brute back?" asked some of the men. Paul was nothing more than a boy, and could not retaliate. But one day a particularly savage and undeserved blow set a match to all the stored-up fuel of his fury, he repaid his wrongs with such liberal interest, that he was sentenced to three months' hard labour for the assault.

Those three months in prison were hideous. Day by day as he brooded on his wrongs he became more and more fiercely embittered and resentful of the whole world. He soon found others in prison of a like mind. In the cold, dark, ill-ventilated cell he was crowded into the witness box by the magistrate to give evidence on his own behalf, able to earn an honest living. Nothing is to be gained by detailing all his subsequent crimes and sentences. One incident, however, will serve to illustrate the character of the man. Continually in want of the Rhenish prunes, he became weary of the Prussian police, who had held him in custody for the assault.

His conversion in the town where he was born. Day by day as he brooded on his wrongs he became more and more fiercely embittered and resentful of the whole world. He soon found others in prison of a like mind. In the cold, dark, ill-ventilated cell he was crowded into the witness box by the magistrate to give evidence on his own behalf, transformed this now mild-mannered, rather shy man into a raging volcano of blind, ungovernable fury. As yet in his early thirties, he has nevertheless spent twelve out of the sixteen years which followed his seventeenth birthday behind prison bars! As he says, it is only by the mercies of God that he is still alive, and a hundred times over. For more than once in his blind frenzies he has attempted to take human life. No one who knows him now, however, can doubt that he has experienced the miracle of conversion. He has passed from death unto life! He also has been born again! He has died again, and is now in the image of his life—A new creature in Christ Jesus.

As a lad Paul Kull was sent to learn book-binding in a Rhineland town. He acquired very little knowledge of the craft. A chief part of his work consisted of frequent visits to spirit houses, and the like, of which both the master and his employer bought quantities. No wonder Paul early acquired a sharp craving for the fiery spirit! His master was a brutal, hot-tempered man, and the youngest apprentice soon learned the weight of his hand.

With rising passion he fought back, refused to budge from where he stood. "Put him in the box!" ordered the magistrate. Three policemen stepped forward. Quick as thought Kull seized the foremost round the waist, swung him off his feet, and, using him as a weapon, felled one of the two. It was an unequal battle, however. Other policemen were hurried into the court, and, foaming at the mouth like a maniac, Kull was carried to the cells and confined in straight waistcoat. Brought before the court again later, he was exonerated from the charge of theft, but sentenced to three years' imprisonment for the assault, a sentence which would have been much more severe but for the fact the provocation he suffered in being falsely charged.

Three years ago in an outburst of anger he attacked his mother-in-law on a street of crime. One single blow from his fist, delivered upon his four years' sentence with some slight satisfaction, is the fact that while in prison he mastered the trade of tailoring, by means of which since his conversion, he has been

THE ARMY BAND.

Tune.—The Maple Leaf.
The Army Band, it marches out,
On the streets you hear its strains,
It halts, and on the corner stands;
And Heavenly truth proclaims;
The Bandsman talk of Jesus love,
And sing His songs together,
And tell the crowd who stand around Sin's chains for them He'll sever.

Chorus.
The Army Band! The Army Band!
They know sin's chains are riven,
They play to bring the lost to Him,
That they may be forgiven.

These Bandsmen once were bound in sin.
And led captive by its chains, God's law they broke from day to day.
Nor heeded not His claim,
Until His love it broke their hearts,
For when sin's chains were riven,
They passed, believed, Salvation came.

They know they were forgiven,
And now for God they do their part,
And their music try to play,
To bring the wavered from God
Into the sunny way;
The love His smile upon them rest,
And may they pull together,
Here on earth they do their best,
They'll reign with Him forever.
Composed by Envoy Collier for Special Musical Meeting given by Vancouver I. Band.

TWAS A HAPPY DAY.
Tune.—Before I got Salvation, 212;
Song Book, 251.
Before I got Salvation,
I was sunk in degradation,
And from my Saviour wandered far astray;
But cast to Calvary's mountain,
Where I fell into the Fountain,
And here the heart the burden rolled away.

Chorus.
Twas a happy day, and no mistake.
Since I have been converted,
And the devil's ranks converted,
I've had such joy and gladness in my soul!
For Jesus I've been fighting,
And in the War delighting,
And now I'm pressing on towards the goal.
It's faithful to my Saviour,
I shall enjoy His peace,
And He will keep me safely to the end;
And when I cross the river,
I'll live with Him for ever.
And one eternal day of glory spend.

THE LAMB OF CALVARY.
Tune.—In Evil Long 41: Oh, the Lamb, 55.
In evil long I took delight,
Unawed by shame or fear:
Till a new object met my sight:
And stopped my wild career.

Chorus.
Oh, the Lamb, the bleeding Lamb,
The Lamb of Calvary,
The Lamb that was slain, but liveth again
To intercede for me!

I saw One hanging on a tree
In agony and blood.
Who fixed His dying eyes on me,
As near the Cross I stood.

Since never till my latest breath
Can I forget that look:
It seemed to charge me with His wrath.
Thought not a word He spoke.

My conscience felt and owned my guilt,
And plunged me in despair;
I saw my sins His Blood had spit,
And helped to nail Him there.

"COMING THIS WAY."
Tune.—Looking This Way.
Trusting in Jesus, our hearts know
no fear,
We are His Soldiers, under His care;
He never slanders, is with us always,
A mighty revival is coming this way.

Chorus.
Coming this way, yes, coming this way.
A mighty revival is coming this way,
Keep on believing, trust and obey;
A mighty revival is coming this way.

Fighting for Jesus, advance without fear,
Sorrow and weakness our Leader
doth share,
Trials and heartaches will soon pass away;
A mighty revival is coming this way.

Filled with His Spirit, walking in love,
By faith we see Him, seated above;
Doubting Him never, trust and obey;
A mighty revival is coming this way.

Regina, have had a curious time lately, account of their daughter Nellie having to undergo an operation for appendicitis. We learn that it was successful, and that she is making a good recovery.

Adjutant Penfold has been appointed Chaplain of the Remount Department of the Canadian Expeditionary Force at Salisbury Plain, England.

Ensign H. Turner, of Halifax, I., has received permission to visit Goderstone, Melville, Melville Island and distribute literature to them.
A baby boy arrived at the home of Ensign and Mrs. James Merritt,
Victoria, B.C., on Saturday, Jan. 16.

The Staff Songsters will shortly commence visiting small Corps outside of Toronto: the first one being Brampton on Feb. 27, 28.

Dyson, the son of Adjutant and Mrs. Carter, of Winnipeg, whose limbs have been broken several times within the last two years, has had a new and successful surgical treatment which, it is hoped and believed, will be entirely satisfactory and successful. Our sympathies and prayer are with Adjutant and Mrs. Carter.

The C. P. R. has offered to give to The Salvation Army, for distribution among the poor, all the coal left over from their dining cars each day.

We have received a letter from Brigadier Bettridge, Feb. 23d, stating that his son, David Bettridge and David Hume—one of the converts at the Commissioner's meeting in London on Sunday night, Jan. 17th met with an accident and was instantly killed on Monday night. It appears that he fell down the elevator shaft at the London Foundry Company. He was a boy of 16 years and a sturdy lad. The boy was in his sixteenth year, and the only support of his widowed mother, who has our prayers and sympathy.

The comrade who dealt with him at the Penitent Form says he gave a clear testimony that God had saved him.
He was converted about nine o'clock Sunday night, and went to Heaven at 6 p.m. Monday.
